Diana design

■ Diana Yacht Design was founded in 1971 by a trio of Dutch engineers – naval architect Joost Beekman, marine engineer Cor van der Wiel and electrical engineer Kees Kolff. Over the years the firm has been responsible for some of the world's more remarkable superyachts and has collaborated with all the designers of note, from Jon Bannenberg and Andrew Winch to Donald Starkey and Terence Disdale on yachts as diverse as Inca Rose, Campbell Bay, Evergreen and Lady Duvera. Its latest project, a 44.4m steel hulled displacement yacht, offers a typical blend of cruising performance and comfort. Powered by two Caterpillar 3508 diesels, she will make 14 knots. Lloyd's and MCA compliant, she is scheduled to be built in Denmark. Contact: Diana Design, Engelandlaan 232, 2034 NH Haarlem, Holland. Tel:+31 23 536 4464 Fax:+31 23 536 5504
