Diana 45-and 48-meter yachts

Diana Yacht Design of Haarlem, Holland recently unveiled their plans for two new yachts: a 147' and 157'. The first, a 147'/45m full displacement yacht, resembles Lady Duvera, launched in 1991. It will be powered by twin 775hp Caterpillar 3308 diesels that provide a maximum speed of 15 knots. Interiors will include four guest staterooms and a master suite on the main deck. The second is a 157'/48m yacht, originally designed for charter, but the layout can be easily modified for owners who maintain the vessel for personal use. The plans include six double-occupancy staterooms with special attention paid to comfort and stability underway. Space on deck is reserved for an emergency landing pad for a small helicopter. Both yachts will be Lloyd's SSC 100A1 classed and will be built to MCA code.
